STUDY TOUR ON HIV/AIDS POLICY

The International Center for Development Communication will conduct a Study Tour on HIV/AIDS Policy on June 9-16, 2010 in Bangkok, Thailand. This seven (7)-day study tour will provide opportunities for the participants to learn from pertinent cases based on the obstacles and successes experienced by patients as a result of the concerted efforts to reduce the spread of HIV/AIDS.

HIV/AIDS policy discussions will cover the following areas:

- a. Public education response;
- b. Religious organizations response;
- c. Non-government organizations response;
- d. Mother to child transmission issues;
- e. Workplace response;
- f. Media coverage; and
- g. Government response.

The participants to this activity are policy makers and advocates, project and program planners, managers and coordinators of the HIV/AIDS prevention and control programs/projects.

The program fee is One Thousand US Dollars ($1,000.00), which includes tuition, workshop materials, morning and afternoon snacks, and field trip transportation including airport transfer. Not included are airfare, accommodation, meals, and personal expenses. The deadline for application is on May 21, 2010.
