NATIONAL TRAINING-WORKSHOP ON BUILDING AND SUSTAINING
A VIBRANT SCHOOL CULTURE
(Principles, Issues, and Challenges Related to School Improvement)

The University of Asia and the Pacific (UA&P) will hold the National Training-Workshop on Building and Sustaining a Vibrant School Culture (Principles, Issues, and Challenges Related to School Improvement) on May 17-20, 2011 at the Ecotech Center, Lahug, Cebu City.

At the end of the conference, the participants should be able to:

- a. self-audit and describe the culture of their respective schools;
- b. have a deeper understanding of school culture, its components, and the forces that shape it;
- c. assess the operational implications of their self-audit and force-field analysis of the culture of their respective schools; and
- d. draw up action measures (for improving the present culture of their respective schools) that focus the key aspects of elements of school culture that are within their control.

The participants to this activity are school principals, administrators, and teacher-leaders of both public and private schools.

The registration fee is Four Thousand Five Hundred Pesos (PhP4,500.00) which will be charged to each participant to cover conference materials and certificates, board and lodging and meals (three meals and two snacks). The participants are encouraged to confirm their attendance on April 30, 2011.
