CALL FOR APPLICATION ON THE ASEAN-US SCIENCE PRIZE FOR WOMEN 2020

The Association of Southeast Asian Nations-Agency for International Development (ASEAN-USAID) Inclusive Growth in ASEAN through Innovation, Trade, and E-Commerce (ASEAN-USAID IGNITE) invites the SEAMEO Member Countries and SEAMEO Regional Centres to nominate candidates to the ASEAN-US Science Prize Science Prize for Women 2020.

The prize will focus on preventive healthcare in general and will emphasize how preventive healthcare can bring about positive outcomes for ASEAN. It seeks to award female applicants who are engaged in research or are promoting activities related to the preventive health care in the region and who are role models for other women working in and pursuing careers in science, technology, engineering and meth (STEM) fields.

The competition is currently open for application until February 14, 2020.

Further information about the prize can be accessed to the links stated below.
