ADDRESSING THE CHALLENGE OF EDUCATION QUALITY: AN EDUC FORUM SERIES
(Invitation for Teachers and School Leaders)

The Philippine Forum for Inclusive Quality Basic Education (Educ Forum) will host the “Addressing the Challenge of Education Quality: An Educ Forum Series”. The first episode will be shared via livestream on August 26, 2021, Thursday, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

This series aims to provide a venue for sharing updates on ongoing major reforms initiated by the Department of Education (DepEd) and to discuss the critical and unresolved issues on the quality of education. Further, the series will serve as a platform to inform, deliberate, and refine the reform initiatives. Every episode of the Educ Forum Series shall tackle relevant topics to be presented by DepEd and/or its partners from the Educ Forum, attached government agencies, and education partners, including civil society organizations, as well as organizations and foundations from the private sector, among others.

Teachers and school leaders from public and private schools nationwide are encouraged to participate for greater awareness and public discussion on education issues.

The first episode will tackle the Curriculum Review Results, to be presented by the DepEd Curriculum and Instruction strand and the Assessment, Curriculum and Technology Research Center (ACTRC). The panel discussant also includes Dr. Bert Tuga from the Philippine Normal University (PNU) and Dr. Christopher Bernido from the Central Visayas Institute and Foundation (CVIF).

All episodes will be shared via livestream through the official accounts of DepEd Philippines:
