GENETICS CAMP 2022

(Behind the GENES: Uncovering Hidden Patterns of Inheritance through Genetic Counseling)

The University of the Philippines Los Baños (UPLB) Genetics Society (GeneSoc) will hold its Genetics Camp 2022 online with the theme, “Behind the GENES: Uncovering Hidden Patterns of Inheritance through Genetic Counseling,” from March 5 to 6, 2022, via the Zoom Cloud platform.

This two-day Genetics Camp is full of engaging activities for high school students and teachers all over the country. The Camp is intended to reach out and encourage creative appreciation of the science of Genetics and serve as an avenue for students to learn more about Genetics – its background, applications, and implications to society.

The camp will also hold different contests including Essay Writing, Digital Poster-Making, Generate: A Breakthrough Video Contest, GeneSoc’s Young Genetics Ambassadors, Skit, and Research Proposal Competition.

For inquiries, contact GeneSoc coordinators, Maria Carmela Regina M. Lanip and/or John Nicolas P. Olitin through email at gencamp2022@gmail.com or at mobile numbers 0906-367-2478 and 0915-271-0271.
